WEATHER

Clearing in the valley by late this morning. Then mostly fair through Friday. Windy today. Lows tonight in the upper 30s to mid 40s. Highs today in the low to mid 60s and Friday in the 60s. Westerly winds 10 to 20 mph becoming gusty today. Livermore high 63.

State cuts $10,000 from fair

The cut in the state apportionment to the Alameda County Fair Association could apparently have far greater long - range implications than immediate result. As noted to County Fair Board members Tuesday, the state has notified Lee Hall, secretary - manager, of a $55,000 apportionment or $10,000 less than the stipulated ceiling amount fairs and expositions may receive.

The Alameda County Fair Association received the full allotment of $65,000 last year but Hall had previously indicated he was concerned about what has now taken place. The lesser amount, in the eyes of the local fair board and management, indicates the fair doesn't need the full apportionment though earnestly trying to meet sky-rocketing costs of operation while also attempting to improve the total operation.

The 1976 County Fair budget provides that the only State money available will be the $89,000 balance carried over at the end of the fiscal year. The Fair plans to spend $2.5 million for operating expenditures and $317,500 for capital improvements, or a total expenditure of $2.9 million.

As stated in accompanying budget commentary, the major part of the $321,342 operating expenditures for the Fair budget are a result of factors relating to inflation.

Directors awarded Hillside Catering of Albany the bar and cafeteria concessions for a period of two years. Hillside bid a $75,000 guarantee (per year) or 45.55 per cent of the gross (per year), which ever is greater.

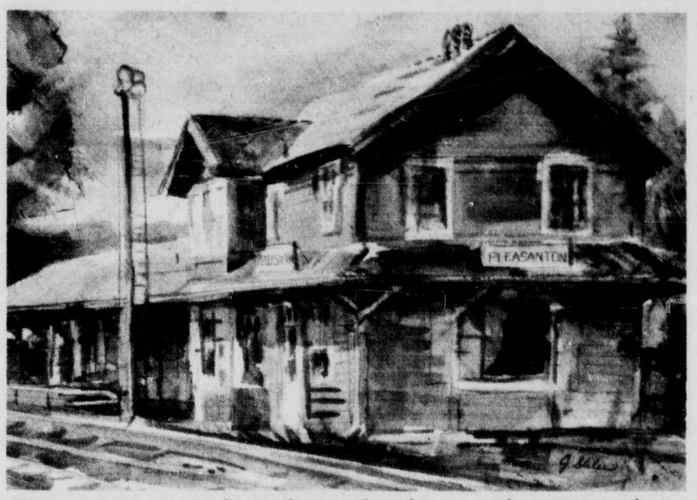
Hillside and Bill Peluso, Sr. had entered bids.

Peluso had made a presentation at last month's meeting, thereby necessitating an "equal time" situation for Hillside.

John Pleich, chairman of the floriculture committee, announced that the annual Fair Preview Night would be Saturday, June 26 with the Fair Association joining with the Mulberry Branch of Children's Hospital to organize the evening.

Hall also told board members that Spike Jones, Jr., comedian - impressionist George Kirby and Flash Cadillac and the Continental Kids have been signed for the '76 County Fair run. Also appearing will be Scotty Plummer and the Mugglestones, a family variety group.

Hall is awaiting verification of the appearances of western singer Marty Robbins and Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass.



Pleasanton artists have been sketching and painting their local Southern Pacific Depot for years. This watercolor was done by Joe Stiles and is part of a series of his local watercolors which have been published as a box of note cards. This rendering came to us courtesy of Lynch's Pleasanton Art and Frame Shop.

Will SP 'upgrade' new restaurant?

PLEASANTON — If Southern Pacific installs a restaurant in the local depot, preservationist David Eller hopes the firm will tamper with it as little as possible.

Eller, who lives in Livermore, is concerned about preservation of old buildings throughout the valley. He and his friends were saddened by the way the Livermore SP station was converted into a restaurant.

Maybe only a purist would notice, but in the remodeling of the depot walls were sandblasted and overdone, an eight foot hole was cut in the ceiling, and worst of all, an entire addition was built, changing the profile of the station, said Eller.

It's possible to adapt a building to modern use without altering it so greatly, said Eller. If SP "upgrades" the Pleasanton station into a restaurant, it should do it under the supervision of persons skilled in the art of restoration, he said.

"Myself and others who were sad about what happened to the depot compared it to Michelangelo's 'David' If someone added a third arm to 'David,' it would still be David but it would look a little odd," said Eller.

"We have to be more careful when people are using our history. It's wonderful to find uses for it, but we have to be more authentic about restoration encouraging adaptive use, but giving it supervision," he said.

Pleasanton Glass occupies the SP station now, but wants to move to an old structure on First Street and will seek planning commission approval of the move tonight. If that happens, SP wants to bring in a lucrative commercial tenant and a spokesperson told The Times Monday that a restaurant would be the most desirable tenant. This does not mean that SP has made contact with any restaurants, since the idea has not gone that far.

Eller noted that in Livermore the restoration of the station helped lead to formation of a special heritage design review procedure before the planning commission's design review committee.

"If you are going to add a room to a heritage house, it would have to go to heritage design review, but small things like painting it, would not," said Eller. "There is concern that a person might add aluminum siding or a concrete block room. The addition must be within the original design intent of the structure.

"It means that such homes will be worth more money in the future because it is restored, not 'modernized.' In the 1940's and '50's, they showed you in House Beautiful how to modernize and stuccoize an old home. Now people are ripping the goop off their old homes and finding they are worth more restored properly. Pleasanton of all places should really get into this," said Eller.

Pleasanton's design review committee does not have any special procedures for reviewing alterations and updates to old buildings. However, the city adopted an ordinance for the creation of an historical overlay district in 1973.

The ordinance permits the city council, planning commission or the Historical Landmark Advisory Committee (yet to be created) to designate any building or buildings as historical landmarks. The city then could make special demands on owners of the landmarks which would insure they would restore or adapt the landmark in an authentic manner.

New race heats up

'Avoid Miller doctrine' Kinney urges zone voters

The race for three seats on the board of directors of Zone 7, Alameda County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, heated up yesterday as Ed Kinney hurled the first charges at fellow zone candidates David Harris, Archer Futch and Donald Miller.

In a press release issued yesterday, former Pleasanton mayor Kinney said he is seeking a seat on the zone board "to prevent the zone's policies from being dictated by Don Miller paranoia."

"The integrity of the (zone) board was weakened two years ago when Robert Pearson and Richard Ryon were elected and joined David Harris in expressing a 'chicken little - like sky is falling attitude,' "Kinney charged.

Kinney said Archer Futch and Donald Miller, "adding their usual fears to the zone board," are a "threat to a rational functioning of the zone."

Kinney said voters would have a clear choice between "my efforts to keep the zone working toward reasonable improvements and the efforts of Harris, Miller and Futch to use the zone as a tool of their pessimistic paranoia."

The zone, Kinney said, should be allowed to "work positively" for improved water quality and quantity.

"An obstructionist philosophy directed by Donald Miller would only prevent those needed improvements from occuring (sic)," Kinney charged.

David Harris, current Zone 7 chairman, said he was reluctant to respond to the charges without seeing the statement.

But by phone he told The Times he did not want to get down to name calling and polarization of candidates.

"This reckless throwing around of pyschiatric terms by laymen appalls me," said Harris.

He said he resented efforts to link his candidacy with others in the race.

"I'm unhappy about the polarizing," Harris said. "I have not contacted nor been contacted by any other candidate or their representatives, either formally or informally."

"I will not slate up with anyone," Harris said.

Former Livermore mayor Archer Futch also declined to trade epithets with Kinney.

"I intend to run on the issues," said Futch. He said his record showed that he had supported "improved water quality and quantity."

"I supported Project II to provide better quality water to the far end the valley," said Futch, "and worked to increase the quantity of the water supply as well."

Futch resisted efforts to lump his candidacy in with Harris and Miller.

"I have frequently disagreed with Don Miller," said Futch. "My decisions are and will continue to be independent and based on consideration of the best good for the citizens of the valley."

Former Livermore City Councilman Donald Miller termed Kinney's statement "amusing."

"It's amusing to read Mr. Kinney's paranoid statement — accusing others of paranoia," said Miller.

Miller said he was "equally amused" with Kinney's remarks about the integrity of the zone board.

Miller said the board had "deliberately misled the public about rates and quality of Project II water, unnecessarily raised or water rates so as to subsidize expansion for developers, refused to cooperate with elected boards of Livermore, Pleasanton and VCSD."

Miller said Kinney's stand on water quality was "still more amusing" because, Miller charged, Kinney "has supported Gelderville, a project which would use up the improved water supply destined for Dublin and pleasanton."

But Miller did find one point on which to agree with Kinney. "It is certainly true," he said, "that the voters will have a clear choice among candidates."

Miller said his candidacy was not part of a slate.

"There has been no serious talk about a slate," Miller said.

AVTA views get look tonight

(This is the second of two stories looking at the contract proposal presented by the Amador Valley Teachers Association and to be reviewed tonight by the Pleasanton Joint School District board at 7:30 p.m. in the district offices)

Among the 35 sections in the 1976-77 AVTA contract proposal are ones dealing with certificated employee evaluations and employee benefits.

Under terms of the new collective bargaining law, many items not previously negotiable are now open to give - and - take on the part of certificated employee groups and administration.

The AVTA proposal asks for the following evaluation procedure:

Every probationary certificated employee shall be evaluated by the administration in writing at least twice each school year.

Every permanent certificated employee shall be evaluated by the administration in writing every other year, no later than Dec. 1 of the year in which evaluation takes place.

Among the 14 other stipulations are the following:

No later than the end of the seventh school week of the year in which evaluation is to take place, the evaluator and the certificated employee shall meet and mutually agree to the elements upon which evaluation is to be based. These elements shall be constrained by anomalies such as class size, intellectual abilities of the learners, availability of support personnel, the learning environment provided, and other pertinent factors.

Each evaluation should be based upon at least one observation and shall be followed by an evaluation conference in which the evaluator and the certificated employee shall review the observations and what is to be incorporated into the written evaluation.

Any certificated employee who receives a negative evaluation shall, upon request, be entitled to a subsequent observation, conference and written evaluation, as prescribed.

The evaluator shall not base his evaluation of a certificated employee on any information which was not collected through the direct observation of such employee. Hearsay statements shall be excluded from written evaluations.

All of the above is the verbatim "language" as written in the contract proposal under evaluations.

Leo Croce moving to city

LIVERMORE — Superintendent of Schools Leo Croce and his wife, Pina, are about to become Livermore homeowners.

After 22 years in Lafayette, the pair are settling in the town where Croce has headed the school district for the past two and a half years. They expect to be moved into their Shadowbrook tract residence by the end of the month.

Moving into town was one of the conditions school board members set in 1973 when they hired Croce to replace retiring superintendent Ed Rundstrom. They gave the new schools chief two years to accomplish the move.

Croce had been accustomed to commuting, since he was an Oakland district administrator before joining the Livermore district. So he spent the first two years driving here from Lafayette every morning and then rented a home in town last July.

As a Rotary Club member, a Chamber of Commerce representative, an advisor to the Twin Valley Boy Scouts and a member of various school PTA's, Croce had been spending two to four nights a week at meetings. He also manages to be in his office by 8 o'clock most mornings, and finds it something of a relief not to be commuting anymore.

He admits it's hard leaving Lafayette after 22 years and says they haven't decided whether to sell or rent their old home.

"I know I'll enjoy being a Livermore homeowner and a part of the community," Croce observed yesterday. "Although," he added, "being a part of the community has always been my working style."

Tax rate shift gives board power

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — The county board of education gained its "fiscal independence" from the supervisors yesterday in a move that should lower the county's tax base while raising the education department's.

Tax rates will change in identical amounts of about three-fourths of one cent per $100 of assessed valuation as responsibility for some $430,000 in revenue and expenditures changes hands.

The county's tax rate currently is $3.10 per $100, while the board of education's sits at 23-cents per $100 in the valley.

The county's educational arm, which runs schools for the mentally and physically handicapped as well as a state mandated drug education program, "will be just like any other school district board," said supervisor Joe Bort. "It will have to submit a budget and stay within the limits of its tax ceiling."

The county's maximum permissible tax rate according to SB 90 is about $3.21 per $100. The board of education's has yet to be established.

The county has been spending $247,000 to fund the state mandated drug education program run by the education department. Of those funds, $141,000 came from revenue sharing and the balance from the general fund.

Superintendent of schools Rock LaFleche urged the board to transfer those funds to his department, but the board balked out of fear revenue sharing might not be continued.

"I don't want to cement us into this thing without a guarantee of revenue sharing," said Bort.

The county will contract with the board for the next fiscal year, and, if federal revenue sharing is not guaranteed, will use the general fund portion to underwrite the program for six months.

If and when revenue sharing funds are available, the supervisors will go to the entire, year round program.

Under the education board's "fiscal independence," the county will contract with the superintendent of education for the county's drug education program.

The transfer is expected to offer the supervisors a more coordinated effort in county wide drug education programs.

LaFleche's department still will run the programs, however, including personnel and administration.

'New director must want public housing'

PLEASANTON — Whoever succeeds John Bowling as executive director of the housing authority should be a pusher for new public housing, according to Housing Authority Commissioner Penny Deleray.

The housing authority is entering its final rounds of interviews for a new director to replace Bowling, who left for higher pay with the Vancouver, Wash., housing authority. Deleray has been impressed with the talents of the many fine candidates and thinks the commission will pick one by the beginning of April.

The new executive director should not be just a manager, said Deleray. He or she will have to work for the 150 units of low - income housing authorized several years ago by local voters. Bowling, before he departed, was talking to the owner of a 10 acre parcel as a possible future site, but Deleray is not certain that site is still is viable.

"Ideally we want scattered sites. That's how we talked about the housing when we pushed for the referendum," said Deleray. But since the sewer connection problem the housing authority has much less flexibility. Now the housing authority must find a developer who is on the sewer connection priority list or it can't build the housing.

"In hindsight, we realize we would have been better off to join the 1972 lawsuit (over sewer connections). Then we would have been on the priority list," said Deleray.

There are a few more than 150 families now at Komandorski Village, but some of then them are Navy families and presumably Navy housing could accomodate them when Komandorski is demolished.

PG&E to put lines underground

Pacific Gas and Electric has allocated $110,000 for projects to install underground existing overhead electric distribution lines in Pleasanton and Livermore.

The underground installation projects are part of an on - going effort by PG&E that began in 1968. More than $12 million has been allotted by the company for its 1976 underground projects, bringing the total to $93.5 million.

The 1976 Pleasanton allocation is $41,900.

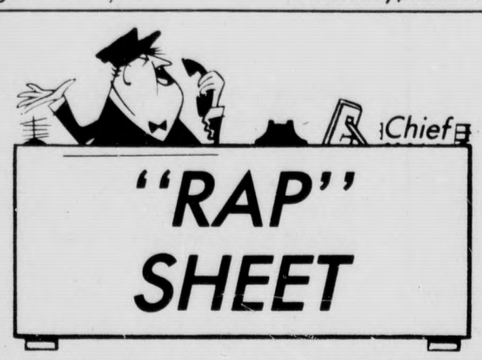
Locally current major projects under construction where poles are and lines are being removed and installed underground are Abbie Street - Main Street to First Street, and Santa Rita Road - Bridge to the railroad tracks.

PG&E has allocated $68,100 to Livermore.

Projects currently under way there include North P Street. More than $53,000 was spent on that effort in 1975.

Undergrounding projects are recommended by an Underground Committee. Final selection is made by the City Council after public hearings.

PG&E's local allocations are based in the ratio of electric customers in each community or county to the total number of customers the company serves on its Northern and Central California system.



Man arrested for possession, kultivation of pot

LIVERMORE — Armed with a search warrant, police entered a Mills Way residence late Monday and confiscated marijuana, pot plants, seeds, butts and a stolen calculator.

Arrested was Jessie Lee Spears, 19, of 3884 Mills Way.

Police knocked on Spear's door about 10 p.m. Monday and said they wanted to search for narcotics. Spears agreed to the search and the police entered without incident.

Inside, they found two baggies of marijuana in a box on a living room table, numerous marijuana seeds in a shoe box lid hidden under the sofa, two pots containing 6 - 7 small marijuana plants, several marijuana cigarette butts in a jar, and a calculator reported stolen from a residence in Contra Costa County.

Spears reportedly told police he bought the calculator at a San Jose flea market.

Police are expected to present a complaint to the district attorney's office later in the week asking that formal charges be filed.

Three rings worth $1,500 stolen from jewelers

As Reid began working on the watch, he saw one of the suspects reach into the store safe. Reid told the man to move away, handed him back his watch and the men left.

A men's yellow gold pinkie ring with diamond cluster valued at $450 was later discovered missing. An inventory showed that two other rings were missing, both women's white gold diamond dinner rings worth $500 each.

Police talked to neighboring merchants and found the suspects entered the Pleasanton Bakery and Pleasanton Food Store, walked about for a short time and left. The investigation is continuing.

Bicentennial history series

New version of struggle

Descriptions of early settlers' relations with Native Americans, including a few facts not found in the textbooks, enthralled an audience of approximately 25 at Chabot College's valley campus yesterday.

Instructor Joe Downs gave the talk as part of a series on the Bicentennial which has been open to the public on Wednesday for the past nine weeks. The final talk, "Spies, Scientists, and Revolutionaries," will conclude the series at 2:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

The early English settlers in the South, especially in South Carolina and Georgia, had great fears that the Cherokees would unite with Black slaves and drive out the numerically inferior whites. So the whites devised "a deliberate plan to keep the races separated which your textbooks don't talk about."

The whites achieved their goal with two strategies: one was to pay the Cherokees a bounty of a musket and three blankets for each runaway slave they returned. That was big pay then, the equivalent of 35 deerskins "which was a lot of bucks," said Downs.

The other strategy was to take Blacks along on white war parties so that the Indians would see them as the enemy. The French also used this ploy in Louisiana.

There was an early attempt to expel the English colonists in Virginia in 1619, but it didn't work because the fledgling colony had grown too strong since its origin in 1607. The Indians could have wiped out the Jamestown colony in 1607, but the Indian leader at the time, Powhattan, was tolerant of the white people.

Still, it must have been tempting to Powhattan because the English were bad neighbors from the start. They were the sons of minor nobles in England and didn't even know how to feed themselves. They resorted to the logical solution to the food and upkeep problem: they stole. But if Powhattan did not like the white settlers, he at least tolerated them and his son's efforts in 1619 to expel them was bound to fail.

The Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock were better neighbors to the Indians. They were family types and did not hassle the Indians. They probably were surprised to meet an English - speaking Indian when they got off the boat. Squantum had spent two years in England because he was captured by English fishermen who had landed on Plymouth's shores a few years earlier to dry their fish catches.

Some people may stereotype Indians as one group of people, but at the time of English colonization the Native Americans spoke 370 different languages and presented more diversity than the tribes of Africa and nations of Europe.

Downs illustrated his point well by showing slides of paintings of Native Americans done by the early American and colonial governments. It seems that early governments had a custom of bringing Indians to capitals like Philadelphia and painting their portraits. Some of the Indians were dressed in Western clothes and a few, like John Ross, a Cherokee, looked European in their features. Ross could be mistaken for a 19th century corporation president. In fact, like the Cherokee leaders McIntosh and Wetherford, he had mixed white and Indian parentage. (McIntosh was pictured in his Scotch clan tartan.)

Another little - known aspect of early white - Indian dealings was the English raid on the Spanish missions in Florida. The mission system in Florida was more extensive than the one in California. It was obliterated by the English in 1704 because the Spanish were encouraging Blacks to desert the plantations in South Carolina and flee to freedom in Florida.

Some Indians even understood the workings of the Mafia, according to Downs. The Hurons were running a profitable trade in furs from the Great Lakes to the English traders. The Iriquois went to the Hurons and made them an offer they couldn't refuse: "We'll let you continue your trade if you give us half the profits."

The Hurons agreed for five years, then quit the payments. The Iriquois killed most of the Hurons and the survivors moved to Wisconsin and Michigan, becoming known as the Wyandottes.

She served homemade ravioli for 25 cents

By LILLY AULT

Adele Ghiotti attributes her 94 years of good life to "keeping regular hours, no eating between meals, eating plain foods, a little glass of wine with her meals, fresh air, no sweets, lots of fruits and no smoking."

Mrs. Ghiotti arrived in Pleasanton from Italy in 1907. She and her late husband Luis were owners and operators of the Columbia Hotel on Main Street where the Green Door is presently located.

Diners would come from all over the area to eat and enjoy Adele's homemade ravioli which was served family style for only 25 cents. Room and board at the hotel was $1 per week. Adele rolled her ravioli dough so thin you could read a paper underneath it. "That's the secret to good ravioli," she said, "rolling the dough very thin."

Adele has never suffered from any serious illness. A devout Catholic, she would walk to church every morning, rain or shine, until she was 91 years of age.

Adele was an early riser, getting up at 5 a.m. to take care of two lots of gardening. During World War II she won a first prize for her Victory Garden. Cooking and gardening were her hobbies.

Adele's recreation consisted of a trip into Livermore going out to Tesla to get vegetables for the family. This trip, made by horse and buggy, was an all-day undertaking. If they were not able to get the quantity of vegetables needed for the family, a trip into Mission San Jose would then be necessary.

NONAGENARIAN ADELE GHIOTTI AND HER DAUGHTER, IRENE PONS.

When members of the Ghiotti family lost all their belongings during the San Francisco earthquake, they moved to Adele's and Luis's ranch until such time they were able to rebuild their homes and businesses. During this time, Adele did all the cooking for all members of the family.

Adele has two daughters, Irene who lives next door to her and Evelyn who lives in San Francisco, four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. A family gathering was held recently, (Adele made the ravioli) to celebrate Adele's 94 years of "a wonderful life."

A dinner-dance to raise funds for the Tom Hart Scholarship is set Saturday, March 20 at the Pavillion Room of the Sunol Valley Golf Club.

The scholarship will be presented through the auspices of the Amador Valley Scholarship Incorporation in memory of the late Pleasanton educator, Tom Hart.

Hart was widely respected as principal of Pleasanton Elementary School for many years, and an assistant superintendent of the local school district.

In tribute to his efforts in encouraging students in all areas of endeavor, the scholarship is designed to aid those interested in technical and vocational training, as well as the academically inclined.

Tickets for the event at $10 per person are available from Bob Scruggs at 846-4611. Special reservations for tables of eight or more may also be arranged.

As winner of the Pleasanton contest, Croteau will compete against winners from Dublin, Dublin-San Ramon and Livermore with district winner receiving $2,000 in prize money and scholarships. Topic for this year's contest is 'Citizen Rights versus Criminal Rights.' Don Rocco was chairman of the Pleasanton event.

Look Younger in the Face of Winter

You can look older sooner than you think. As early as your twenties, your natural moisture and oil supply decreases, leaving your skin vulnerable. Winter, with its chill weather, harsh winds and indoor heat can quickly dry your skin, making you look older . . . no matter what your age. Take a close look in the mirror. Is that really how you want your skin to look?

Now discover the secret of a mysterious beauty fluid, a secret shared by knowledgeable women of all ages in many parts of the world, who look their youngest no matter what the season. This beauty fluid, with its wealth of pure moisture and tropical oils, is known in the United States as Oil of Olay beauty lotion.

Oil of Olay works hand-in-hand with nature to ease away the dryness that can too easily make you look older too soon. The beauty fluid penetrates your skin's surface deeply and astonishingly quickly. And there's never,ever a greasy afterfeel. The beauty fluid works almost exactly like your own natural moisture to soothe away dryness. And it helps maintain the oil-moisture balance of your skin, essential if it's to look as young and glowing as possible.

Watch as your skin virtually drinks in Oil of Olay. Within moments your complexion grows noticeably softer and smoother, so you can look your youngest, whatever your age. Soothe on Oil of Olay every single morning. It's marvelous under makeup or, if you choose to go bare-faced, it provides a moist environment for your skin. Again every single night, to work beautifully during hours of sleep. And whenever else a feeling of dryness tells you that the moisture content of your skin should be increased.

Enjoy the winter weather . . . the skiing, sledding, all the fun the season has to offer. Just be sure to let your skin enjoy the benefits of Oil of Olay. You will find the mysterious beauty fluid at your drugstore.

Winter Beauty Secret

In this weather, your skin can scarcely get enough Oil of Olay®. Carry it with you in your purse or tote bag, so you'll never be caught without its help.

Concert highlights effort to buy community piano

By JEAN MCKENNA

You have to see through the braces and angular eleven-year-old akwardness to realize this girl will be a beauty someday. Her modest smile flashes shiny metal, and her limbs are too long for her slender figure.

But when she sits at the keyboard and plays Mozart, she is all sweetness and light and grace.

This "angel" promises to enchant her audience at the free concert which will be her debut as a symphonic soloist slated Saturday, March 13, 8:15 p.m., at the Livermore Presbyterian Church. With the Ohlone College Community Orchestra, she will perform the delightful Concerto in G Major written in 1784 by Mozart for his young Viennese girl friend.

The concert is planned to draw attention to efforts by a Livermore group to raise money for purchase of a community piano.

The ad hoc Piano Committee is composed of representatives from Livermore schools, the Livermnre Cultural Arts Council, Livermore-Amador Symphony, Livermore Civic Chorus, Livermore Festival Committee, Chamber of Commerce and Livermore churches.

This group has been joined by Alan Schell, president of the Livermore Eudcators Association, who has set up the Eric Schell Memorial Fund to honor the memory of his young musician son. Money donated to this fund will help in the purchase of the community piano.

The need for a quality concert piano for community use has long been recognized by organizations such as the local symphony, civic chorus and chamber groups which have paid hundreds of dollars in piano rental fees over the years. According to a committee spokesman, purchase of a quality piano would enable a variety of community groups, including school ensembles, to engage top professional soloists, and to elevate the caliber of their own performances.

Since many of these groups also perform in Pleasanton, notably the Livermore-Amador Symphony, both communities would benefit.

Saturday's concert is financed with a grant from the Musicians Union Local 510 solicited by Robert Jacobson, director of the Ohlone orchestra and a music instructor at Livermore High School.

The piano to be used at the concert is a rare Steinway "A" music room grand, loaned by Jennifer's teacher, Toni Merkle. Mrs. Merkle is widow of Dr. Theodore Merkle, an associate director of Lawrence Livermore Laboratory.

The Steinway's special action is ideally suited to Jennifer's smaller hand and lighter touch, and the piano's tone quality is "optimum," according to Mrs. Merkle.

Yet there is "nothing childlike about Jenny's playing at all," affirms Mrs Merkle. "One of her finest qualities is her ability to really listen and understand the music she plays."

A student of the piano for little more than three years, Jenny has rounded up several impressive honors. Rhe placed first in the Bay Area in competition sponsored by the California Association of Professional Music Teachers in 1973. Twice she was chosen to play in the UNICEF Youth Concert at San Jose State University.

She was also a finalist in the 1974 Dublin Search for Talent and last year's competition at the Alameda County Fair.

Under the sensitive guidance of her mother, also a musician and art teacher, Jenny practices Bach, Mozart and Chopin using tape recorder and metronome, listening to records and sometimes disagreeing with the recorded interpretation of a piece. Her serious love of music may set her apart from other sixth graders at Harvest Park School, but this she takes easily in stride by entertaining friends with her arrangements of popular songs.

Her charm and modesty are evident when she relates with a giggle that members of the Ohlone gave her a standing ovation whet she first played the Mozart concerto with them. Of Saturday's challenge she says matter-of-factly, "It will be fun."

YOUNG SOLOIST

Eleven-year-old Jennifer Lack of Pleasanton, as spritely as her playing is brilliant, will perform Mozart's Concerto in G Major in a free concert at Livermore Saturday.

Final shows

"Don't Drink the Water" closes a two-weekend run Friday and Saturday at the Sunol Valley Country Club with curtain each night at 8:30 p.m.

Those hoping to see the Woody Allen farce directed by Cliff Beyer are urged to purchase tickets in advance or come well before curtain time Friday or Saturday. Tickets at $3 for adults and $2 for children and senior citizens are availabld at the Pleasanton Recreation Department on Bernal Avenue.

After the usual opening night jitters and a small audience, the cast came forth with a fine effort last Saturday that sent the entire audience of almost 250 home in a jovial mood.

No doubt about it, the show is full of laughs and tongue-in-cheek intrique.

This will be the Pleasanton Playhouse's only other production this year before the epic "George M," slated for August.

inside the arts

Kirth concert slated

Alan Kirth of Pleasanton, a 1974 graduate of Amador Valley High School, will present a formal trumpet recital Wednesday, March 31 at San Francisco.

The twenty-year-old musician is currently attending the San Francisco Conservatory of Music on a scholarship, and plays first trumpet with the Berkeley Promenade Symphony.

Alan was the Amador High student who played the "Star Spangled Banner" solo at Oakland Raider games several years ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Kirth of Pleasanton.

The trumpet recital opens at 8 p.m. at Hellman Hall of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, 1201 Ortega St. (19th Ave.), San Francisco. There is no admission charge.

A reception for family and guests will follow the performance.

Folk music club swings

The public is invited to tonight's meeting of the Livermore Valley Folk Music Club at the Unitarian Fellowship House, 4260 First St., Livermore.

Lovers of folk, country or bluegrass music gather at 7:30 p.m. to play their instruments or simply enjoy sharing a common interest. For more information contact Mary Singleton at 462-1496.

Livermore show is attention-getter

Five young Livermore artists have joined forces to present a provocative statement in sculpture, painting, and cartoon at State Savings and Loan Association this month.

The display, which may be viewed by the public during regular bank hours, may puzzle members of the older generation while delighting a younger audience which thrives on dry humor and cryptic messages.

Most startling of the works in the display are those of Karen Jenkins, whose creations of handmade paper have appeared in several local shows. Ms. Jenkins offers a series of sculptures featuring preserved horseflies — "Fly and Cup" (handmade paper teacup with fly perched on edge), "Fly" (imprint of opened zipper on handmade paper with fly at apex), "Flypaper" (squashed flies on handmade paper), and "Untitled" (paper shaped in form of flyswatter with a single squashed fly).

Unbeatable conversation pieces carefully framed and glassed. Questionable as real art, the price tags are very real.

Gloria Taylor's contribution to the display are paintings, drawings and prints from her "table top" series, as well as some drawings of the Safeway interior. Ms. Taylor is a Berkeley graduate and an active promoter of the Livermore Cultural Arts Festival.

Dominating the exhibit are the massive abstract paintings of Dorothy Barlett and Ben Aiken — Barlett's in an impressionistic vein, Aiken's more cubistic in character.

Aiken studied art at the Chicago Art Institute, while Ms. Barlett is currently working on a doctor's degree from New York University.

Meredith Mustard, who specializes in freelance calligraphy, offers a series of charcoal and pastel cartoons which precede her current work in oils. The cartoons illustrate thoughts printed at the bottom of the picture, thought-provoking or downright inscrutable, depending on which side of the generation gap you stand.

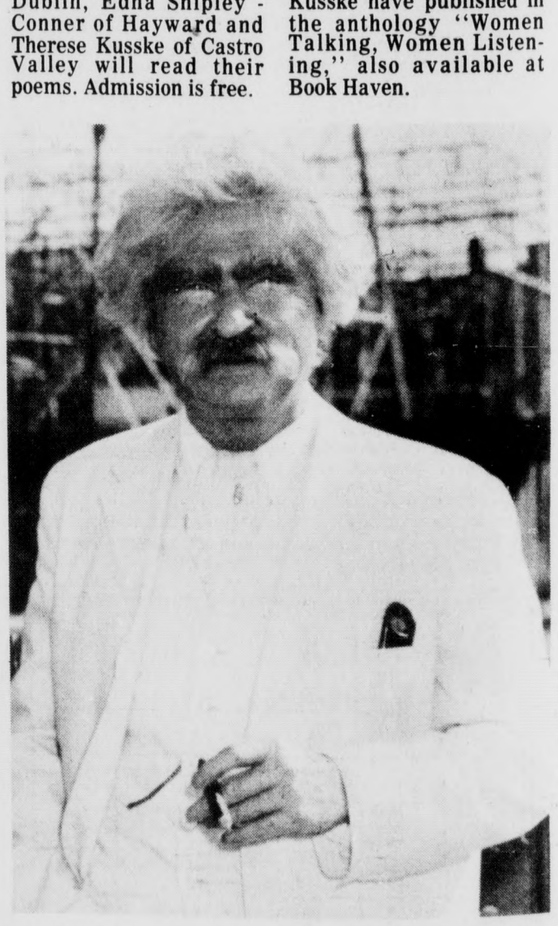
Valley poetry extravaganza

"Spring Ahead to Poetry," a poetry extravaganza for the entire valley, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, March 19, at the Livermore Unitarian Fellowship, 4260 First Street, Livermore.

Poets Ron McNicoll and David Cummings of Livermore, S. Lee and Ninon of Dublin, Edna Shipley - Conner of Hayward and Therese Kusske of Castro Valley will read their poems. Admission is free.

The reading is also open to any poets who want to read their work after the featured poets read.

McNicoll has published a book of poems, "Sail Away, Silvery Moon," available at Book Haven in Livermore. Lee, Ninon, Shipley - Conner and Kusske have published in the anthology "Women Talking, Women Listening," also available at Book Haven.



American humorist

Broadway Actor Tom Noel brings his one-man show 'Mark Twain at Home' to the stage of the Chabot College-Community Auditorium at Hayward Friday, March 12 as part of the college's Performing Arts Series. Some of the material which he will present has never been performed before, since the material was expressly prohibited from publication by Twain himself until 50 years after his death. All tickets for the program at $2 apiece are available at the Pleasanton Recreation Department (846-3202) or the Odyssey Box Office in Livermore (443-2155). The curtain rises at 8 p.m.

Front Row

By AL FISCHER

The emergence of stage and film productions directed and manned by minorities, in many cases blacks, has been one of the more positive movements in "Theater of the 70s."

Yet, the wrapping on this theatrical package has hardly been touched.

Blacks on film and in stage productions have evolved as a force bringing a heretofore untapped audience into theaters and auditoriums around the country.

It will take time, but the day is coming when blacks and other minorities will have Gable's, Redford's, Lombard's and Monroes — and they will be accepted as such by mass audiences and not just the black population or any other segment of society.

But before anything like this happens, two major hurdles must be surmounted. This includes the story line or basic plot of motion pictures or plays and the quality of performances by blacks or other minority actors and actresses.

Specifically, until such time as motion pictures with blacks in lead roles can get out of the "exploitation" bag, stop coming down on "whitey" as a buffoon and - or criminal aggressor, their will be little progress made.

Black films could advance quicker with actors the stature of Sidney Poitier, James Earl Jones and Ossie Davis than Fred Williamson, Richard Rountree and the other Shaft and Superfly characters.

Two of the better stage productions of recent years have been ones with all - black casts — Raisin (now playing in San Francisco) and Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope — but both have fallen back on sock-it-to-whitey material to tie the better words and lyrics together.

It has been said that out of the "exploitation" films and stage musicals will come the leading black actors and actresses of tomorrow. In short, any stage is better than none ... it giving the aspiring professional a chance to hone his craft.

I cannot argue with that.

However, this is one person who doesn't care to waste his money by going to see the Superfly-type mishmashes or the porno trash. And I believe this opinion is shared by many millions of other theater-goers.

An example of one of the better films with blacks in lead roles is now playing at the theater in the Amador Valley Shopping Center on Santa Rita in Pleasanton. That would be Mahogany, starring Diana Ross and Billy Dee Williams.

As mentioned at the outset, theater pieces directed and manned largely by minorities have come a long way (it took movie moguls far too many years to finally learn who the audiences of the 60s and 70s would be).

But the challenge now is to upgrade the quality of not only acting but the productions.

MARQUEE — The date for the speaker on UFOs at Amador Valley High has been changed. Stayed tuned for the new date ... California High will present a "Pops Concert" Friday night at 8 featuring the symphonic band, jazz ensemble, choirs and modern dance ensemble. The $1 donation will go towards the purchase of a curtain for the theater, located on Broadmoor in San Ramon ... Gil Eagles, "the entertaining psychic," will be at the Amador Valley High auditorium on Monday, March 29 at 8 p.m.

For Thursday, March 11, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Normally you're very optimistic, but today may be unusual in that you see the negative side of things rather than the positive.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Some information may be passed on to you from a friend. Ironically, you could miss a good opportunity by not knowing how to use it properly.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's very important today to capitalize on your assets. If you're negotiating, don't weaken your position by giving too much away to gain a point.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If put to the test today, stick to your guns. It's extremely unwise to give the opposition undeserved concessions.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You may find yourself in the awkward position today of having to seek aid from one you consider beneath you. Don't let pride stand in your way.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try not to ask anything of close associates today that might embarrass them because they can't deliver. Judge your wants against their ability to help.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) People in a position of influence look upon your petitions very favorably today. Take care not to lose your good standing with a poor approach.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Underlings cannot carry out your missions as well as you can. Be cautious as to whom you delegate authority for important projects.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't become too deeply immersed in the problems of one very close to you. The difficulties are deeper than your ability to assist.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Things you do for others today may not bring the appreciation you'd hoped for. Don't be disappointed — unrelated stresses may be to blame.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Determine the cost for services you're having performed today. If you don't, the bill could jolt you when the job is done.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're a warm and giving person. You should continue to be so. Don't, however, be taken advantage of by those who expect you to pay the full tab.

You may be in a position this coming year where you will have jurisdiction over the affairs of others. It won't be an easy task, but you'll benefit greatly if you do it well.

Opening lead — K ♠

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Yesterday's hand is repeated today. Playing in five clubs, Arthur Robinson of Philadelphia was able to mark West with the king of clubs because his opening lead of the spade king marked East with either the ace or king of hearts. So Arthur dropped the singleton king and was sure to make his game contract. However, the game was duplicate and Arthur proceeded to make six. The play is worthy of note.

At trick three he led a club to dummy, then he ruffed a spade, led the jack of diamonds covered by king and ace, ruffed another spade and ran off all his trumps to leave himself with one diamond and three hearts.

West had to throw his ace of hearts to hold three diamonds and the spade queen. Now Arthur discarded dummy's last spade to leave it with three diamonds and a heart. East was down to hearts and diamonds.

Finally, Arthur cashed dummy's high diamonds and led that heart. East took his king, but Arthur's queen was his 12th trick.

Ask the Jacobys

A California reader wants to know the youngest and oldest players to win the McKenney trophy.

Oswald Jacoby's fourth and last win occurred in 1962 at the age of 61. Barry Crane's first win occurred in 1952 at the age of 24 or thereabouts. Paul Soloway and Peter Rank each won it at age 27.

Quality tops at Potter's

LIVERMORE — Laura Bowers, the charming owner of Potter's Pizza, has eight years of experience and many pizzas under her customers' belts to prove that quality is the name of the game.

As costs have soared over the years, Laura has kept the famous taste and quality in her pizzas that made this one of the most successful businesses in Livermore.

Laura's secret might be her love for people. She would rather talk about that than her product, and this reflects in the warm greetings her customers bestow upon her when entering and leaving.

Potter's Pizza comes from the family name. Indeed, the crest on the outside of the building is a genuine one.

The last of the big 18-inch pizzas, dubbed "Big Bertha," is featured at Potter's. Sebastiani wine, as well as light and dark beer, is also served.

Potter's has a complete pizza selection, not to mention spaghetti, ravioli, salads and hot sandwiches. The shop is located at 186 Maple St. in Livermore.

Watch out, it may be habit - forming.

Cy Harrison, co - owner of Royal English Fish 'N Chips on Hopyard Road in Pleasanton and London Fish 'N Chips on Railroad Avenue in Livermore, draws a brew for his partner, Louise Grutzeck. The high nutritional value of fish, combined with quick service and low price, explains why the fish and chips menu is becoming increasingly popular for both lunch and dinner. Both restaurants offer fried clams, prawns and beer on tap in addition to the traditional fish and chips favorite.

Newark rally tops Dons

In what was clearly a practice game for both teams, Newark High School scored four unearned runs in the bottom of the fifth inning and went on to beat Amador High School, 9-7 yesterday on the winners' diamond.

The game was called in the sixth inning because of darkness but it was probably better that way as both teams performed erratically.

"This kind of game taught us a lesson," said Amador coach Don Bush as he walked towards his bus "We beat McClymonds, pretty bad last week and the kids were pretty high on themselves. This game showed them that there are good teams that are quite capable of beating them."

When asked about chances in the league race, coach Bush was cautious in his speculation. He felt that he had a good team but that he was still too early in the season to tell. He also commented that Granada and San Ramon were the teams to beat this year with Monte Vista also a strong contender.

As far as yesterday's showing was concerned it wasn't a game that would make a coaches' day. Walks and errors played a major part in getting runs across the plate and the winning runs were scored when the Dons' left fielder dropped a well-hit drive to left.

Amador kicked things off with a five-run first and seemed to have things well in hand. Then Newark came up with four runs of their own in the third and coupled with a single tally in the first tied things up at 5-5 apiece. Amador got two more runs in the fifth but then came Newark's four-run fifth and the coaches, taking a look at the sky, said the heck with it.

Jeff Terry had two hits and two RBI's to lead the Don attack. Rob Wicks added two RBI's and one hit and Bill Bevilacqua had two hits and scored once.

Alhambra runs over California

California High School track team fell to an experienced Alhambra squad, 103-31 yesterday on a cold windy, day in Martinez.

The California girls turned the tables on Alhambra, however, taking a tight 47-42 victory.

Willie Huff sparked the Grizzly boys with victories in the 100 and 220. Huff ran the shorter race in a fine 10.4 then came back to take the 220 in 24.3 over two Bulldog runners.

Tony Cline added another win for the Grizzlies with a good 20-4 leap in the long jump. The California 440-yard relay team rolled to a 47.0 victory with Huff anchoring.

However, Alhambra's depth and strength in the distance races was too much for the young Grizzlies. The Bulldogs won the 880, mile and two-mile in increasing their margin over California. The versatile Cline also leaped for a second place in the triple jump as the winning Bulldog athlete had a 39-4¾ leap.

In the girls competition California won both relays to take the meet. The Grizzly 880-yard relay squad recorded a 2:11 1 clocking to cinch the team victory for California.

The California girls came away with eight first places and were particuarly strong in the hurdles and middle distances.

Mustang girls face Berkeley

Monte Vista High, EBAL girls basketball champion and the league's only hope in post season play, faces top-notch Berkeley in the first round of the Concord Classic at Concord High School tonight.

Tipoff is 6:30.

The Mustangs will be in top form with All-EBAL players Carol Dolsby, Linda Silva and Laura Fumagalli in good health.

Amador Valley has been forced to cancel out of the tournament because of injuries.

Carmen Macon, the Dons' star center, and an All-League pick, injured a knee playing soccer and is wearing a full-length leg cast. Debbie Oxsen, the Amador playmaker and outside shooter, fractured a rib playing soccer. Cheryl Withoft is bed-ridden with the flu.

It's hoped that Monte Vista will be able to take the spotlight away from a sportsmanship uproar which has followed the girls all season long.

Controversies have raged on the court, in meeting rooms and in the newspapers.

"People always seem to find faults, but they never give us credit for the good things," said Peggy Baker, who played for Livermore this past season.

The Cowboy team was embroiled in a couple of tangles this year, one after running up the score against Foothill, the other a 50-46 win over Monte Vista, protested by the Mustangs.

The return match was expected to be a donnybrook. It was on the scoreboard, Livermore winning, 42-41. The only disturbance, however, was the heckling of a fan who singled out Monte Vista's Linda Silva. When the game ended she walked into the stands and politely protested to her detractor.

The competition was tough, says Baker, but the players complemented each other with, "nice shot," or, "that was a good move."

"Silva told me several times during the game that she hoped I would get my scholarship," Baker said.

An honorable mention choice for All-EBAL, Baker is in the running for a Long Beach University basketball scholarship.

Player relations weren't that bad in the girls' league this year, Peggy says. In fact, they were pretty good. "A lot of players get to know each other through soccer," she explained.

Many EBAL basketball players faced each other in the Al Caffodio Soccer League this season.

Grizzlies beat CP

PLEASANT HILL — A workmanlike pitching performance by sophomore lefthander Chuck Cary paced California High School to its first varsity baseball win here yesterday afternoon, 6-4, over College Park in a game ended after five innings due to arctic winds and approaching darkness.

The younger of the baseball-playing Cary brothers struck out seven of the 25 batters he faced, giving up an equal number of hits and walking three to earn the complete-game win.

"He got himself into a couple of scrapes," admitted co-coach Bob Noble. "His arm was getting tired and his pitches started coming in high — but he never complained."

As good as Cary was, the first two Falcon pitchers were, conversely, bad.

College Park starter Pat Vigil gave up two runs in the first inning on three walks and his own throwing error. Cal's lone contribution to the rally was a sacrifice fly by Chuck Cary.

The second was twice as rocky for Cal as Vigil and reliever Dick Hogan combined for five walks and, with the "help" of an error, gave up four runs.

Larry Walters RBI single was the Grizzly contribution to CP's charity in the second frame.

Husky Bill Davis finally came on in the third to put the brakes to Cal's runaway.

But, even disregarding the help from Falcon hurlers, Cal was much improved from Monday when they lost a dismal 12-2 game to De La Salle.

"Our hitting and defense definitely improved," said Noble. "I only saw one ball get through that we should have had."

Noble agreed that Grizzly batters were more agressive than in Monday's debacle. "Bret Cary (whose line drive to center was one of two Cal hits) hit well and everyone was getting a piece of the ball," he said.

Livermore depth downs Acalanes

Livermore High won the final event of the day — the mile relay — to nip Acalanes, 68½ to 67½, in non-league track at the Dons' oval yesterday.

Mike West and Steve Loyd paced Livermore to its squeeker over Acalanes.

Loyd, only a freshman, captured the one and two mile events while West took firsts in the 330 low hurdles and the 120 high hurdles.

Ironically, Loyd was elevated to the varsity just before the meet because 11 members of the Cowboy club were temporarily suspended for disciplinary reasons.

The meet was up in the air until the day's concluding event as Livermore won by about 20 yards in the mile relay with a time of 3:38.9.

Several times were slowed because of a strong headwind and freezing weather.

Livermore also won the frosh-soph and girls' meet.

Livermore's swift sophomore, Paula Ng, paced the girls with an 11.1 clocking in the 80 yard low hurdles. Ng won the event by a full two seconds.

Livermore 68½, Acalanes 67½:

440 relay — Acalanes 46.8; 330 LH — M. LA suffers losing season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers already have won more games than they did last year. So why do people keep asking Coach Bill Sharman to explain his team's disappointing season?

The answer, of course, is Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. When Lakers owner Jack Kent Cooke swung the big deal to get the superstar center from Milwaukee, he immediately put visions of National Basketball Association championships in the heads of Lakers followers.

Instead, the team has spent the year flirting with the .500 mark, dropping one game below by losing to the New York Knicks 101-96 Tuesday night.

Minnesota weighs future

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The University of Minnesota, weighed down for the past eight months by an investigation into the conduct of its basketball program, began looking to the future Wednesday.

"It's full speed ahead now," Athletic Director Paul Giel said. "Our attitude was to clean up the house and take our lumps and that's the way Jim Dutcher feels, too."

Dutcher, who was named basketball coach in August during the height of the National Collegiate Athletic Association probe, already is on the East Coast looking for top high school prospects.

The NCAA disclosed Tuesday night that Minnesota was being placed on a three-year probation for 127 violations that occurred from 1971 to 1975, during the tenure of former Coach Bill Musselman. Most of the violations were for accepting illegal financial aid.

The Big Ten school was slapped with a two-year ban on post-season basketball competition, prohibited from playing on nationally televised games for two years and allowed only three new basketball scholarships instead of the normal six for each of the next two years.

In addition, the eight student athletes on basketball scholarships were ruled ineligible from competing in post-season playoffs during their collegiate careers at Minnesota.

The limitation on team playoff competition runs out March 4, 1978, so the Gophers could compete in the 1978 NCAA playdowns. For the six sophomores and freshmen now on scholarships to compete in those playoffs.

Devils plunge over Cal

Mt. Diablo High School opened up its 1976 swimming season, plunging to a decisive 87-71 win over California at Olympic Pool in San Ramon yesterday.

The Grizzlies' junior varsity also lost to the Red Devils, 109-25.

It marked another first for the Grizzlies. Their initial varsity swimming season.

And it was quite an interesting afternoon. The youthful Grizzlies winning six of the 11 events. Cal was led by Jay Jones who collected two firsts and also anchored the Cal 200-medley relay team to a gold medal. Jones swam 2.19.2 in the individual medley, and 5.24.5 in the 500-freestyle.

Jeff Jones and Ray Alanzo were also a part of the Grizzly 200-medley relay team and performed well. Jones was third in the 50-freestyle at 23.3 and also took third in the diving competition, running up a 63.85 point total.

Alanzo was first in the 100-breaststroke, swimming a 1.09.8. Dave Smith was another medalist for the Grizzlies in the 100-backstroke at 1.10.7 for a first place.

Mt. Diablo wasn't exactly overpowering, ahead by only 31-27 midway through the meet. It was their strong depth, however, that paid off.

Assistant Cal coach Bob Valcalda remarked "We still have a lot of work to do. There were some minor mistakes and this is only our first year of competitive swimming.

"For some kids this was only their first time out," he said "They did a good job."

Cal's Mike Murphy won the 100-freestyle at 53.5 and was also a part of the 200-medley relay team.

Dodger charged

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mike Marshall, the temperamental Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher, stood mute Wednesday at his arraignment on four misdemeanor charges then vowed again not to play major league baseball until his dispute with Michigan State University is settled.

The 33-year-old former Cy Young Award winner was arraigned in district court on four charges stemming from his use of MSU's intramural building without advance permission. Marshall, an MSU graduate student, was charged with trespassing, disrupting a scheduled university activity and with two counts of malicious destruction of university property.

Judge Earl McDonald set a pretrial hearing for June 15 and Marshall remained free on his own recognizance.

After his arraignment, Marshall again said - his major league career would wait until his feud with MSU officials is settled.

He is fighting MSU on two fronts.

He contends that he has an agreement of several years' standing that gives him automatic reservation time to use the hitting and pitching net in the men's intramural building. But recently, school officials told Marshall he would have to reserve the net a day in advance like other students because of overcrowding.

Marshall also insists an impartial third party should judge a design he proposed for the facility which he said would allow his baseball practice and others' tennis to proceed in harmony. MSU officials say his plan would cut the tennis - playing area.

Campus police arrested Marshall Feb. 24 for distrupting a scheduled tennis practice by using the net without a reservation. He was arrested five days later when he and an NBC television camera crew entered the intramural building against orders of Robert Perrin, MSU vice president, school officials say.

The NBC crew was filming a show about baseball spring training. The crew left when asked to by police, but Marshall demanded he be arrested or allowed to play without a reservation, the school officials added.

Marshall also was charged with malicious destruction of school property after a chain surrounding the net twice was cut, said the officials.

Notes bore such slogans as "An Appeal to Heaven" and "Pro Arms et Focis," and featured woodcuts of victorious battles, The World Almanac notes.

HONDA CIVIC
A rolling savings account
The Civic is full of big ideas. A transverse mounted engine to shorten the profile. A passenger compartment designed around people to give them more room. And the new CVCC Advanced Stratified Charge engine that meets emission standards without a catalytic converter.
Standard equipment includes:
TAKE A TEST DRIVE TODAY!
A Civic saves you money. You'll spend less on fuel because you'll pass more gas stations. And when you do need gas, you'll be glad to know that the Honda Civic runs on regular, low-lead or no-lead. Because it doesn't have a catalytic converter. But those aren't its only advantages as a test drive will show you.
